WASATCH BACK IRISH DANCE

Brittanna Roberts Kercher & her instructors grew up in the Heber Valley & had to travel an hour to the nearest Irish dance studio. Wasatch Back Irish Dance was started by its instructors to bring their passion and skillset to the community and inspire a new generation of Irish dancers.

Wasatch Back Irish Dance offers premier Irish Dance instruction by Utah licensed educators (who also teach at local public schools in the valley). This ensures that students receive quality dance education with best practices focused on the student. Their studio also offers individualized pathways for students to reach their own goals, whether it be 1 hr per week of recreational classes, or 7+ hours of class at the highest competitive level.

Wasatch Back Irish Dance has cultivated a love of Irish dance and excellence in technique as they have taught dancers from new beginners, to open champions who have qualified for national and international competitions. Their instructor, Adelia, is a qualified TCRG (this certification requires passing an incredibly difficult test through the Irish Dancing Commission in Ireland.

“Irish dance is just as prestigious and can offer just as much as other styles of dance,” Brittanna tells us. “It takes incredible athleticism, skill, and passion. Irish dance is a great cultural and recreational activity and can also be an elite sport.”

You can see The Wasatch Back Irish Dancers performing at the Ideal Playhouse on March 12th at 5:15 & 7:15 pm. They are also hosting a community St. Patrick's Day Ceili in the Rec Center Party Room. March 17th from 6-7PM. Wear green and come for the music, dancing, and fun!
